

Dear interested parties in dealer training,

The online basic course of our training content includes the option of comprehensive self-study.

You will receive online access to our training archive, which covers the most important topics relevant to the success of your training.

The following content is offered thematically in the form of short webinars as well as in handout form:

Learning section 1

- Viewing markets as complex systems
- Market organization / players / connection and interlocking of the various market products
- Reflexivity of market players

Learning section 2

- Introduction to product theory
- Shares / Bonds
- Forward / Futures / Options
- CFDs, ETFs
- Connection between futures / cash, brief introduction to index arbitrage

Learning section 3

- How do options differ from other financial products?
- Discussion of the delta
- Discussion of the gamma
- Review of the Vegas
- Discussion of the Theta
- Review of Rho
- Synthesizations with options
- Arbitrage with synthesizations
- Reversal & Conversion

Learning section 4

- What does visualization mean and what benefits can a retailer derive from it?
- Hippocampus, visualization and timing. What role does the subconscious play?
- Introduction to market analysis
- Technical analysis: history, benefits, limitations
- Technical analysis: Methodology
- Technical analysis: Systematics
- Fundamental analysis: benefits, limits

We wish you every success and will support you wherever we can! Uwe Wagner